| Course Load        | Course load of local students--- 1. MBA We require our full-time MBA students to get 47 credits (about 15 compulsories and 6 electives) in the first year, and have them focus on thesis-writing and field work in the second year. One credit is equivalent to 15 class hours. 2. Undergraduate Starting from the 2012 intake, all local undergrad students have to take around 140 credits (instead of the previously 170 credits) before graduation (including 4-credit internship report and 4-credit thesis writing). The total number of required credits might slightly vary depending on different majors/specializations. On average, students should complete about 15-18 credits each semester. Normally, compulsory courses are 3-credit each, and elective courses are 2-credit each. 1 credit stands for 17 contact hours. For example, 3 credits course is "3 hours per week" for 17 weeks = 51 hours in total. In general, 1 Renmin credit is equivalent to 2 ECTS credits. |

|  | We require undergrads to take at least 15 credits in the semester abroad, and graduate-level students to take at least 3 courses (no specific credit requirement). The course load for incoming exchange students, however, is at the discretion of the home university. We strongly advise that all incoming exchange students select at least 3 courses. |
