

MEXICO CITY: BEST EDUCATION IN THE PLACE TO VISIT

CIDE offers the most competitive undergraduate programs for social sciences according to the “Best universities in Mexico” survey. According to the European Political Science Journal, CIDE has the best Political Science and International Relations departments in Latin America. It also ranks among the best 50 think tanks in “Domestic Economic Policy” in the world, being the 4th best think tank in Canada and Mexico.

According to The New York Times article “Best 52 Places to go in 2016” Mexico City is the best place to visit because it has one of the world’s best food, due to its interesting history and because of its diverse culture. With young people from around the world streaming into the city, the capital radiates energy. People from all over the world experience the marvelous and colourful places that the city has to offer, including the admirable streets and the best tasting food in the city. For instance, Pujol and Biko, which are located in Polanco, are among the top “50 best restaurants of the world 2015”

Regarding history, Mexico City rank third among cities with the most museums in the world after London and Paris. Some of the most important museums to visit are the Rufino Tamayo Museum, The National Museum of Anthropology, Frida Khalo Museum and Chapultepec Castle. Finally but no less important, nowadays it is easier to travel around the city with services like Uber or Yaxi, making visitor’s experiences safer and easier.

Visit Mexico City and enjoy from a unique experience abroad that will enrich your knowledge and your culture.

Mexico City