Accessing UL Library's Electronic Resources

When accessing electronic resources, we recommend that you always "Sign In" to your library account or use the "Login to UL e-resources" on the library homepage. This ensures that you get the most complete search results, enables you to request checked out items and provides full text access to articles and e-books.

- Students sign in with your ID number as your username
- Staff sign in with your firstname.lastname as your username
- PhD and Masters students must use their student ID as their username

*The first time you login you need to accept terms of use.

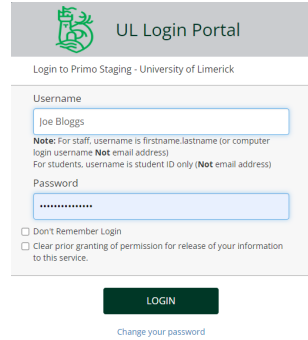

1

To access the sign-in option go to Explore Collections on the library homepage and in the drop down menu select All Resources. The 'Sign In' tab is in the top right hand corner.

This will take you to the login form opposite.

UL Login Portal

2

Alternatively you can log into UL e-resources using the login option on the top of the library homepage. This will also take you to the form.

3

You can also access an article directly without going through the library website, as long as the library has a subscription to the electronic resource. Simply add the following:

https://login.proxy.lib.ul.ie/login?url=

in front of the URL of the resource you need.

Once signed in you should be able to access all electronic resources off campus including databases, ejournals and ebooks, if you close your browser you may have to sign in again.
