

KNOW YOUR STUDENTS

Our student body is diverse and multifaceted

Students don't all arrive at UL in the same way:

- Some have come straight from secondary school
- Some have been away from education for some time
- Some want or need to upskill or change career
- Some are drawn by access to industry expertise
- Some work full-time so need to study part-time
- Some live in other locations and want to study online
- Some are international

Students have to balance their time

- Study tasks can be time-consuming:
- Reading, watching videos, listening to podcasts
 - Communicating on discussion forums
 - Group work
 - Assessment
 - Exam prep

Students have different kinds of commitments:

- Community or voluntary work
- Family
- Work
- Care
- Commute
- Sport

Some students need supports

- Consider:
- Library services
 - IT support
 - Accessibility services
 - Learner services

Picture your students as graduates

- Consider:
- UL's Graduate Attributes
 - Workplace requirements
 - Tasks graduates need to be able to complete in your industry or discipline
